Autopsy Is Ordered In Death of Widow, 79

Body Found in Apartment With Bottle of Poison Near --

Long in Ill Health

Mrs. Susan E. Adams, 79, died in Casualty Hospital today shortly after being found unconscious in the bedroom of her apartment at 1305 East Capitol street. She had been ill for some time and friends said her physician had warned that death was near.

The body was removed to the District Morgue, where Coroner A. Magruder MacDonald planned to perform an autopsy this afternoon to determine definitely the cause of death. Police were told Ms. Adams apparently had drunk from a bottle of poison which had been prescribed for external use.

The widow of Joseph B. Adams of Westboro, Mass., Mrs. Adams had lived in Washington since 1918 and had spent much of her girlhood here earlier. She is survived by a son, Andrew J.B. Adams of Westboro.

Mrs. Adams was an active member of the First Congregational Church and of the Friday Morning Music Club.

Funeral services will be held at 4 p.m. tomorrow in Lee's funeral home, followed by private interment.
