Sisters' Burial To Be Held Today

Second Death Caused by Shock and Grief

Two sisters, who died Tuesday of heart attacks within an hour, the death of the second being attributed to grief and shock over the death of the first, will be buried together in Congressional Cemetery at 2 p.m. today.

Last rites for Mrs. Lillie M. Baird, 62, wife of William J. Baird, and Mrs. Laura V. Wagoner will be held at the graves with the Rev. H.C. Jope, pastor of the Ninth Street Christian Church, officiating.

Mrs. Baird died at her home, 1103 C street northeast, and a short time later Mrs. Wagoner, employed in a downtown office, was summoned to the C street home and died a short time afterward. Both were natives of Washington, the daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. James W. Plant.

Surviving Mrs. Baird are her husband, a son, Lester P. Baird, and two stepsons, Harvey and Murray Baird. Nearest kin of Mrs. Wagoner was Mrs. Baird.
