Didn't Die of the Injuries

Dr. J.F. Hartigan, under instructions of Coroner Patterson, made a post mortem examination yesterday in the case of Allen R. Benner, deceased, late a clerk in the Ordnance Bureau, who was injured a few weeks ago by a fall from a street car, at the corner of 7th street and Pennsylvania avenue, and ascertained that his death was caused by acute inflammation of the lungs and not by injuries received by the fall, as was supposed.
