Terminal Engineer, 58, Dies From Heart Attack

Louis S. Boyer Is Stricken While at His Desk--Four Sisters and Brothers Survive

Louis S. Boyer, 58, supervising engineer of the Washington Terminal Co., died at his desk early today, a victim of heart attack. Mr. Boyer was found by fellow workers seated at his desk at 5:10 o'clock this morning. He was pronounced dead 20 minutes later by an Emergency Hospital physician.

Mr. Boyer, a bachelor, lived at the home of his sister, Mrs. Gaston D. Johnstone, 2015 Park road, who now is en route by automobile to Florida. Besides Mrs. Johnstone, Mr. Boyer is survived by a second sister, Mrs. E.G. Gardner, also of Washington, and two brothers, J.F. Boyer of Capitol Heights, Md., and Harry Boyer of Key West, Fla.

Arrangements for the funeral will await word from Mrs. Johnstone, who started on her Southern trip shortly before her brother's death.
