

Dorothea A. Cook

(1899 – 15 Feb 1988)

Cook, Dorothea A. On Monday, February 15, 1988, Dorothea A. Cook of Washington D.C. She is survived by her cousins, Phyllis Milans of Rehoboth Beach, DE, Joseph K. Morrison of Bethesda, MD and Capt Vance H. Morrison of Belling, China. Friends may call at Joseph Gawler's Sons, 5130 Wisconsin Ave. at Harrison St. NW (parking on premises) Wednesday 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m., where services will be held on Thursday, February 18, 11 a.m. Interment Congressional Cemetery. The Washington Post,

The Washington Post, February 17, 1988, p. B6

Dorothea A. Cook

Teacher and Principal

Dorothea A. Cook, 88, a retired D.C. schoolteacher and principal, died February 15 at Sibley Memorial Hospital of complications after a stroke.

Miss Cook was a fifth-generation Washingtonian and a lifelong resident of this city. She graduated from Eastern High School, the Wilson Teachers College and George Washington University. She received a master's degree in education from Columbia University.

Miss Cook spent her entire teaching career with the D.C. public schools. She retired in 1959 as principal of Murch Elementary School after 38 years in the school system. She also had taught for many years at Buchanan Elementary School.

There are no immediate survivors.