

John Dewey ( - 20 Dec 1935)

---

The Evening Star, December 23, 1935, p. A5

Dewey Rites Held

Masonic Services to Precede Burial in Congressional Cemetery

Masonic funeral services for John Dewey, 59, of 506 A street northeast, Potomac Electric Power Co. painter, who died Friday of a sudden illness, were to be held today at 2 p.m. at Wright's funeral parlors, 1237 Tenth street. Burial was to be in Congressional Cemetery.

Mr. Dewey had spent most of his life in this city. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary J. Dewey; a son, five daughters and four sisters. His father was the late John R. Dewey.

The Washington Post, December 24, 1935, p. 14

Lodge Funeral Service Held for John Dewey

Funeral services for John Dewey, 59, a painter for the Potomac Electric Power Co. were conducted yesterday afternoon by the Masonic lodge at funeral parlors at 1337 Tenth street. Burial was in Congressional Cemetery.

Until his death last Friday from a sudden illness, Mr. Dewey lived at 508 A street northeast. He is survived by six children, John Dewey, jr., Mrs. Marie C. Brooke, Mrs. Margaret Dement, Mrs. Thelma Crooke, Mrs. Leona Crier, all of Washington, and Miss Lillian Dewey, of Kentucky.