Funeral of Wm. A. Dodge

Veteran Printer Had Resided in This City Nearly All His Life

The funeral of William A. Dodge, a veteran printer, will be held from the family residence, No. 2621 University place. The service will be conducted by Rev. W.H. Thompson, pastor of the Waugh M.E. Church. Interment will be at Congressional cemetery.

Mr. Dodge was stricken with apoplexy about three weeks ago while at his desk. He was sixty-three years of age, and had resided in the District practically all his life.

He was born at Madison, Ind., and came here when a boy, and has since been employed as proofreader for local newspapers and as proofreader and chief of specification proof-room at the government printing office for the past thirty-two years. During the seventies he was a compositor on The Evening Star. Through his congenial disposition and efforts to help others he made many friends, who, with his family, mourn his loss.
