

Dominic Furlong

(- 10 Apr 1914)

The Evening Star, April 10, 1914, p. 11

Seven Expire Suddenly

Unusual Number of Fatalities in Washington in Twenty-Four Hours

Washington has an unusual day's record of sudden deaths from natural causes, a total of seven having been reported since yesterday afternoon.

Dominic Furlong, thirty-four years old, who resided at 1234 Florida avenue northeast, this morning became ill while in Police court. He was at once conveyed to Washington Asylum Hospital, where he died about noon. His death was due to natural causes.