Death of Mrs. Gary

Grandniece of Caesar Rodney, Signer of Declaration

Mrs. Victoria Wallace Gary, widow of Thomas A. Gary and grandniece of Caesar Rodney, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, died yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at her home, 1732 Willard street northwest. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon from the Willard street home and interment will be in the Congressional cemetery.

Mrs. Gary was born in Columbus, Miss., but most of her life was spent in Galveston, Tex., where she was married. Caesar A. Rodney, attorney general under Presidents Jefferson and Madison, was her grandfather. One son and three daughters survive--Rodney Gary and Misses Wilmuth and Meosho Gary of Washington and Mrs. E.A. Gattimann of New York.
