

William Henry Getzendanner

( - 2 May 1921)

---

The Evening Star, May 4, 1921, p. 32

Injured In Fall Drowns

William Henry Getzendanner of 2518 F street, manager of the John Cumberland & Son Boat Company, slipped from a float at the foot of F street and, striking his head on the timber, rolled into the river and was drowned.

Andrew Bealle of 819 New Hampshire avenue, fishing a short distance from the float, heard the cries of the drowning man and hurried to the float, but Getzendanner sank before assistance arrived. An attempt to revive him with a pulmotor from Emergency Hospital after he had been pulled out by boathooks, proved fruitless.