Louise Hickerson, a year-and-a-half old, of Seabrooke, Md., drank some kerosene from a water glass which had been placed presumably out of her reach upon a table at her home yesterday afternoon and died an hour later at Children's Hospital.

As she swallowed a draught of the liquid she screamed. Clifton Hickerson, her father, picked her up and rushed her to the hospital in his automobile, but treatment for about an hour was unsuccessful. Coroner Nevitt issued a certificate of accidental death.
