Dr. William M. Hunt Dead

President of the District Dental Society Passes Away

Dr. William M. Hunt, president of the Dental Society of the District of Columbia, died at his home, 117 2nd street northeast, Sunday evening at 6 o'clock. Dr. Hunt had been in failing health, but until the last few days had been able to attend to his business.

At a special session of the District of Columbia Dental Society a resolution was adopted setting forth that "The District of Columbia Dental Society has learned with deep sorrow and regret of the death of its fellow member and late president, Dr. Hunt.

"Dr. Hunt's personal qualities and devotion to his profession commanded the respect of his professional acquaintances and endeared him to a large number of his fellow citizens. In the untimely death of Dr. Hunt this society has lost a respected and useful member, the community an honored and worthy citizen, and his family a devoted husband and father. In his last hour he expressed fearlessness of death and a desire to live only for the welfare of his family."

A committee consisting of Drs. Arthur D. Weakley, William Donnally and C.W. Scott was appointed to have a copy of this resolution sent to the bereaved family with an expression of deep sympathy.

The funeral will be held tomorrow at 11 o'clock a.m. from the family residence.
