

Eliza C. Hutton

(- 6 Sep 1823)

Daily National Intelligencer, August 14, 1823, p. 3

In this city, on the 6th inst. Aged 24 years, Mrs. Eliza W. Hutton, wife of Mr. James Hutton, of the Navy Commissioners' Office, and daughter of James Leander Cathcart, Esq. She has left an infant son, whose loss though great, he cannot feel. But this stroke of affliction is most severely felt by her relatives and friends, who mourn an irretrievable loss. Her example of piety and amiable disposition, caused her to be beloved by all who knew her. Amidst the scenes of this life, which she had full opportunities to witness, her mind and hopes were fixed on another and better world -- in full assurance of a blessed immortality, through the merits of her Redeemer. She left her friends to weep their loss -- which is to her infinite gain. A.
