

Andella Beebe Hyatt

(1840 – 10 Nov 1932)

---

Hyatt. Entered into rest in Princeton, N.J., on the 10th inst., Andella Beebe, wife of the late Professor Alpheus Hyatt, in the 93rd year of her age. Funeral services will be held from her late residence, No. 280 Nassau Street, Princeton, N.J., on Sunday afternoon, November 13, at 2:30 o'clock. Interment at convenience of the family. [Trenton Evening Times, November 11, 1932, p. 23]

The Boston Herald, November 13, 1932, p. 27

Mrs. Alpheus Hyatt

[Special Dispatch to The Herald]

Gloucester, Nov. 12 -- Word was received here today of the death in Princeton, N.J., yesterday of Mrs. Alpheus Hyatt, widow of one of Harvard's most prominent professors of biology. Her summer home was in Annisquam, where her husband had established a summer laboratory of biology.

Mrs. Hyatt, who was more than 90 years old, was the granddaughter of Gen. Vaughn, one of the aides-de-camp of George Washington. She leaves her daughter, Mrs. Archer Hyatt-Huntington, designer of the statue of Joan of Arc on Riverside drive in New York; a second daughter, Mrs. Harriet Hyatt Mayor, also a sculptress, and several grandchildren.