

Margaret Jones

(- 13 Oct 1868)

Jones. On the morning of the 13th, after a long and patient suffering, Margaret, the beloved wife of Levi Jones and eldest daughter of Catharine and the late Nimrod Nowland, of Alexandria, Va., in the 33d year of her age. She leaves a disconsolate husband and five small children to mourn their irreparable loss. Her children have lost the truest of mothers. Her funeral will take place on the 14th, from her late residence, No. 19 L street, between 4th and 5th streets, South Washington, at three o'clock p.m. The friends of the family are invited to attend.

So passed away a mother dear;
Whose love for us none else can know
Whose life seemed only spent in care
To have her children in all good go.

And now rejoicingly she wears
The crown of all her former toil,
A glorious end to pain and tears,
In Heaven rich with a mother spoil.

She's gone, but in our hearts shall live
As long as memory holds its place;
No other love such pleasure give,
No one so dear in form or face.
