W.W. Kelser Dead

Was for Years in Charge of House Telegraph Office

W.W. Kelser, for years in charge of the House telegraph office, died in Pittsburgh Saturday. Mr. Kelser, who was better known as "Bill" Kelser to newspaper men of twenty years ago, began his career as a telegraph operator here fifty years ago. He "worked" the private wire for Gen. Boynton. Mr. Kelser moved to Pittsburgh about twenty years ago. A brother, John O. Kelser, of 1310 B street northeast, survives him.
