

Mary Lawton

(- 20 Jun 1911)

Lawton. On June 20, 1911 in New York, Mary Lawton, daughter of Mrs. A.A. Cole and granddaughter of the late Horatio King. Funeral will be in Washington, D.C. Notice hereafter.

The Evening Star, June 22, 1911, p. 22

Miss Mary Lawton Buried

Funeral Services Held in Congressional Cemetery Chapel

Funeral services for Miss Mary Lawton, whose body was brought her from New York city last night, were held this afternoon in the chapel in Congressional cemetery. Bishop Harding officiated.

Miss Lawton died in New York city Tuesday. Her home for many years was at 1730 Massachusetts avenue. Miss Lawton was the daughter of Mrs. A.A. Cole and the granddaughter of Hortio King, Postmaster General in the Buchanan cabinet. She was a writer of plays and some of them were produced privately in Washington. She was a great traveler and had a number of acquaintances in Europe, a notable one being the director of the Theater Francaise in Paris. She was a graceful conversationalist and popular in the diplomatic corps

Miss Lawton was an only child.