Pneumonia Takes Police Veteran
J.T.S. Loane Served in Civil War – Terror to Evil-Doers
    After a lifetime spent in the defense of his country or his city – Washington – John T.S. Loane, a veteran policeman, died at his home, 221 Eighth street southeast last night. Death was caused by pneumonia.
    Loane's service began when he enlisted as a civil war veteran. Then in 1868 he left the army and became a member of the police force of this city.
    During his service of 35 years Loane's fighting ability caused him to be stationed in the most dangerous districts of old Washington, "Bloodfield" and the notorious "Bad gap" at the foot of South Capitol street were among the beats he had to patrol.
    During his later years he was made a watchman at the government printing office.
    He was a Mason and a member of the G.A.R. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Georgianna E. Loane.
    The funeral will be held from his residence tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Burial will be in Congressional Cemetery.
