

Louis B. Ray

(21 Sep 1857 – 22 Sep 1906)

---

Ray. On Saturday, September 22, 1906 at 4 o'clock a.m., Louis B., beloved husband of Nellie Treynor Ray, aged 49 years. Funeral from his late residence, 617 P street northwest, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited.

The Evening Star, August 6, 1906, p. 5

Anacostia & Vicinity

The illness of L.B. Ray, for several years the day desk clerk in the Anacostia police station, has been acute of late, and for six weeks or more he has been off duty. He visited Stevensburg, Va., in the effort to better his health, but returned to his home in the city unimproved, and for a time his life was despaired of. Within the past week, however, his condition has grown better and his associates in the police precinct look for his return to service in a few weeks. Sergt. C.A. Stevens has been assigned Night Clerk, Virnstein to fill the post, while the night position is being filled by different officers detailed from street duty.

The Evening Star, September 23, 1906, p. 16

Funeral of Louis B. Ray

The funeral of Louis B. Ray, who died yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the age of forty-nine years, will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. at his late residence, 617 P street northwest. Mr. Ray's wife, Nellie Treynor Ray, survives him.

The Evening Star, September 25, 1906, p. 13

Anacostia and Vicinity

The funeral of Louis B. Ray, for the last eight years the day desk clerk in the police building in Anacostia, whose death occurred Saturday last, was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late residence, 617 P street. A delegation of policemen from the Anacostia district attended the services. Floral pieces surrounded the casket, one being from the members of the force at Anacostia. The interment was in Congressional cemetery. The deceased was forty-nine years old and is survived by his wife and two children. He had been unable to perform his duties in the local station for several months by reason of the illness which terminated fatally.