

Jefferson B. Redd

(- 23 Apr 1922)

Redd. Suddenly, Sunday, April 23, 1922, at his residence, 2101 13th st. se., J.B. Redd. Funeral from Emanuel Church, Wednesday morning, at 10:30. Relatives and friends invited. Interment Congressional cemetery.

The Evening Star, April 27, 1922, p. 7

Death Claims J.B. Redd

Resident of District for 40 Years Given Masonic Burial

J.B. Redd, for many years a resident of the District of Columbia, died Sunday at his residence, 2101 13th street southeast. Funeral services were held yesterday morning at Emanuel Church, Anacostia. Burial was with full Masonic honors in Congressional cemetery.

Surviving him are two sisters. Mr. Redd was a native of Maryland and came to Washington forty years ago. He was prominent in Masonic circles, being affiliated with Anacostia Lodge, F.A.A.M. He also was an active worker in Emanuel Church.

The Washington Post, April 27, 1922, p. 7

Services For J.B. Redd

Long-Time Resident of District Buried With Masonic Honors Yesterday

Funeral services for J.B. Redd, for many years a resident of the District, were held yesterday morning at Emmanuel church, Anacostia. Mr. Redd died Sunday at his residence, 2101 Thirteenth street southeast. Burial was with Masonic honors in Congressional cemetery.

Mr. Redd is survived by two sisters. He was a native of Maryland, and came to Washington 40 years ago. He was active in Masonic circles and was connected with Anacostia lodge, F.A.A.M. He also was an active worker in Emmanuel church.