

Travenia Redman (1862 – 20 Sep 1933)

Redman, Travenia. On Wednesday, September 20, 1933, 8:25 p.m., at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. D. William Yeabower, 911 Farragut st. n.w., Travenia Redman (nee Sezer), widow of George F. Redman. Funeral 2 p.m. Friday, September 22. Friends and relatives invited. Interment Congressional Cemetery.

The Evening Star, September 21, 1933, p. A9

Mrs. Redman Dies Here

Services Will Be Held Tomorrow for Native of Virginia

Mrs. Travenia Redman, 72, a resident of Washington for many years, died yesterday at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. D. William Yeabower, 911 Farragut street. Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow to the home, followed by burial in Congressional Cemetery.

Mrs. Redman, a native of Virginia, was the widow of George F. Redman. She is survived by a son, Milton J. Redman, and five daughters, Misses Myrtle M. and Georgie M. Redman, and Mrs. Yeabower, Mrs. I.C. Gessford and Mrs. P.J. Moore.