

Charles R. Reynolds

(- 28 Apr 1905)

Reynolds. Suddenly, at Vancouver, Wash., Charles R., son of the late Col. Charles A. Reynolds, quartermaster's department, United States army.

The Seattle Daily Times, April 29, 1905, p. 2

Killing Was Justified

Vancouver, Wash., Saturday, April 29 -- A coroner's jury returned a verdict of justifiable homicide in the shooting of Charles R. Reynolds by T.W. Pedden yesterday afternoon. Before Padden succeeded in wrenching the pistol from Reynolds the latter succeeded in shooting him in the abdomen. The wound is not dangerous. Reynolds was the son of the late Col. Charles Reynolds, quartermaster department, U.S.A., and brother of Maj. W.B. Reynolds, retired, now a resident of Havana, Cuba.

