

James K. Rice

(- 23 Mar 1876)

Rice. On the 23d of March, 1876, of pneumonia, James K. Rice, in the 47th year of his age (New York city and papers please copy). Relatives and friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend the funeral from the 6th street Presbyterian church, southwest, on Sunday, at 3 p.m.

The Evening Star, March 27, 1876

The Funeral of James K. Rice, a well-known resident of South Washington and a prominent Odd Fellow, who died of pneumonia on Thursday last, after an illness of six days, took place yesterday afternoon from the Sixth street Presbyterian church, and was largely attended. Rev. Mason Noble, the pastor, conducted the service. Columbia Lodge, No. 10, U.H. Ridenour, marshal; Mount Nebo Encampment, No. 6, A.H. Stockman, marshal, and the Uniformed Patriarchs, Commander Edward Dunn, preceded by Repetti's band, attended the funeral and escorted the remains to the Congressional Cemetery, where the interment was made, the funeral services of the order being conducted at the grave by Chaplain Charles C. Collison. Two members from each of the bodies above named acted as pall-bearers.