

Julia E. Rice

(1894 – 30 Dec 1925)

Rice. December 30, 1925 at Garfield Hospital, Julia E. Rice, wife of Dr. E. Clarence Rice and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. George Ruff. Interment Thursday afternoon, December 31.

The Evening Star, December 31, 1925, p. 2

Mrs. Julia E. Rice Dies at Garfield

Wife of Doctor on Hospital Staff Expires After Week's Illness

Mrs. Julia E. Rice, 31 years old, wife of Dr. E. Clarence Rice, jr., died in Garfield Hospital yesterday after an illness of one week. Her husband is a pathologist at Garfield Hospital and is the son of Dr. E. Clarence Rice, sr. well known chiropodist of this city.

Mrs. Rice was a graduate of Eastern High School and of George Washington University and was a member of the Chi Omega Fraternity.

She was active in Sunday school work of the old Iowa Avenue M.E. Church and later in the Hamline M.E. Church, after the merging of the two parishes.

Mrs. Rice was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. George Ruff, 1411 Decatur street. Funeral services were conducted at the parents' home this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Joseph T. Herson, pastor of Hamline M.E. Church, and Rev. Harry Evaul, former pastor here, officiated. Interment was in Congressional Cemetery. Special services were conducted by the Chi Omega Fraternity preceding the other rites.