Death of a Prominent Citizen

Special Correspondence of Kensington, Md.

After an illness of more than six months Mr. Wm. R. Russell died at his home early this morning from organic heart trouble. Mr. Russell leaves a widow and two daughters. He was born in Georgetown, D.C., in 1842, and had, for more than twenty years, been an employee of the Treasury Department, where he occupied a position of trust.

For the last eight years he had been a resident of Kensington and was identified with the interests and progress of the town. He was a past master of the Kensington Masonic lodge, which organization will have the funeral in charge, the date of which has not been determined.
