

George Stevens

(- 28 Jun 1869)

The Evening Star, June 28, 1869

Death of an Old Steamboat Officer

About 4 o'clock this morning, Mr. George Stevens, an old and well-known steamboat man, died, after a brief illness, at the residence of his brother-in-law, on corner of 9th and B, South Washington. The deceased had for many years been one of our most popular river navigators, and for the past few years has been the mate of the Aquia Creek mail steamer Keyport.