

Eveline Stewart

(- 14 Mar 1885)

Stewart. Saturday, March 14, 1885, at 4 a.m., Mrs. Eveline Stewart, widow of William W. Stewart, in the seventy-sixth year of her age. Funeral from the residence of her brother-in-law, Mr. P.W. Browning, 331 Missouri avenue, on Monday, the 16th instant, at two p.m. Relatives and friends are invited. No flowers.

Stewart. Mrs. Eveline Stewart, who departed this life on the 14th inst., was born in this city seventy-five years ago, and her whole life has been spent among us. At an early age she embraced Christianity, and those who knew her have witnessed many examples of her Christian worth. Death had no terrors for her, and the calm and peaceful resignation with which she submitted to God's will was indeed sublime to behold. Her character was a grand one; unselfish at all times, often to her own discomfiture; a nobler soul or kinder heart were never placed in human form. To add to the comforts and wants of others was her chief happiness. To be waited on and cared for, even in her feebleness and old age, seemed to annoy and displease her, so great was her unselfishness. Her principal aim in life appeared to be to relieve the sorrow and pain of those around her, and after performing these acts of mercy, await her reward in Heaven. Such a nature as this is rarely seen, such an exemplification of Christian charity almost unknown. She has departed, and those she loved so well, and to whom she was so dear, although deeply mourning her departure, find consolation in the knowledge that she died as she had lived, and has gone to receive that reward she so justly merited; gone to find eternal rest in her glorious home in Heaven.

Gone to a home where sorrows are unknown,
There forever to be free,
To Heaven above her spirit has flown
To dwell through all eternity.
