

Frederick Sustrat (- 9 Jul 1876)

The Evening Star, July 11, 1876

Exhaustion from the Excessive Heat Numerous Cases and Three Deaths

...

Sunday evening, a young German, named Frederick Sustret, employed in the family of Senator Jones, corner of B street and New Jersey avenue southeast, was suddenly prostrated and died at 11 o'clock, without speaking a word after he was stricken down.