George M. Taylor Dead

Long-time Employee of Senate Passes Away Suddenly

George M. Taylor, messenger to the Senate finance committee for the past 33 years, died suddenly early this morning of heart failure at his home, 218 A street southeast. He was 71 years of age.

Mr. Taylor was appointed from Brattleboro, Vt., in 1876 by Senator Morrill. During his long service as a Senate employee he made the acquaintance of scores of men in public life. He was one of the most popular employees at the Capitol. He was also reputed to be the wealthiest man on the Senate employees' roll. His wife survives him.

The time of the funeral has not yet been fixed. The interment will be in Brattleboro.
