

Enoch Ward

(- 1 Mar 1864)

The Evening Star, May 22, 1863, p. 2

George W. Bennet, charged with an assault and battery, with intent to kill Enoch Ward, is on trial. Bennet married one of Ward's daughters, and was residing with her at her parents, when a difficulty occurred between them at the stable, during which Bennet shot Ward, the ball entering his back.

Ward. March 1, 1864, Enoch Ward in the 48th year of his age. Friends are invited to attend the funeral from the family residence, 4 1/2 street south between E and F west 3 o'clock p.m. tomorrow.

The Evening Star, March 3, 1864

Death From Old Wound

Yesterday Mr. Enoch Ward, formerly a pawnbroker on Louisiana avenue, near 9th street, died from the affects of a wound inflicted by his son-in-law, Geo. W. Bennett, over a year ago. The wound was inflicted with a pistol ball, which was never extracted. Bennett was tried and convicted in the Criminal Court, but a new trial was granted, when he was found guilty of an assault, and he was sentenced to pay a fine.