

Mason P. Weller

(- 22 Jun 1932)

Weller. Mason P. On Wednesday, June 22, 1932 at his residence, the Montclair apartments, Mason P., beloved husband of Geno Davis Weller and brother of Dr. Franklin Weller. Funeral private. Kindly omit flowers.

The Evening Star, June 23, 1932, p. A9

Mason P. Weller Is Taken By Death Veteran Proofreader for Star Dies After Short Illness at Age of 70

Mason P. Weller, 70, a proofreader for The Star for more than 30 years, died yesterday at his apartment in the Montclair after a short illness.

A native of Thurmont, Frederick County, Md., Mr. Weller came to the Capitol about 60 years ago and had lived here continuously. Prior to his employment at The Star, he was a proofreader for Judd & Detwiler, Inc., for 20 years.

Mr. Weller came to The Star in June, 1901. Up to his recent illness he had taken but one day sick leave in 26 years. He was a member of The Evening Star Chapel, Columbia Typographical Union, No. 101. Surviving are his widow Mrs. Gino Davis Weller, and a brother, Dr. Franklin Weller.

Funeral services will be private. The body may be viewed at Birch's funeral home, 3034 M street.

The Evening Star, June 24, 1932, p. A9

Funeral Services Held For Mason P. Weller Evening Star Employee 30 Years Laid to Rest in Congressional Cemetery

Private funeral services were held this afternoon for Mason P. Weller, 70, Evening Star employe for 30 years, who died Wednesday at his home, in the Montclair Apartments. Following the services at Birch's funeral home, the body was to be buried in Congressional Cemetery.

Born in Thurmont, Frederick County, Md., Mr. Weller came to Washington 60 years ago. Prior to his connection with The Star, he had served as a proofreader for Judd & Detweiler, commercial printers. He was a member of The Evening Star chapel, Columbia Typographical Union, No. 101.

Beside his widow, Mrs. Geno Davis Weller, he is survived by a brother, Dr. Franklin Weller.